

KABUL CHANGED MILITARY BASE

 Mirwais - Jalalzai  1st October 2017  Afghanistan , Reports

Some of the Kabulis have been worried about the increase in the number of armed insurgents inside the city. They believe Kabul-turned into a military lighter and Vatican does not even feel peaceful in a city's city.

Some of the Kabulis say that those who set the government for the security of Kabul mosques; treats people with beliefs and some more reinforce that the armed forces do not even understand the use of weapons; but such behavior The fear of them is formed.

Two Kabul-based residents say that in the whole city the city was like a military larquet that the man thinks about, what a terrible event arises.

They say, everyone who had weapons in the house gathered them, and claimed responsibility for them in addition to them, that would make a big headache in the future.

The residents of the capital are convinced that the presence of uniforms of the unarmed armed forces in the city increased the bansom in the city.

Military analysts say government's government's failure, saying that the government is still carrying out its responsibility.

Military analyst Atiqullah Amarkhel, instead of worrying about Kabul's concerns, said that the government had to use the security force for the security of Ashura ceremonies and Shi'ite mosques.

According to Mr. Amarkhel, forces should be trained in the security threats and for terrorist attacks and attacks on the city, and use intelligence information.

Mr Amarkhel said the law enforcement agencies have taken control of the city.

At the same time, interior ministry Zinaenstein, Najib Danish, said that the government has taken all security measures for the security of Kabul and Ashura ceremonies.

After the assassination of the Imamsman mosque in the city of Kabul, the Shia scholars of the Shia community presented a plan to confiscate the residents of the area for the security of their mosques to the government, according to the principle of security of every mosque. Locals of 5 locals are employed.

